New Panatropé Wonder Machine, Avers Gardner

Program Reveals the Latest Achievement in World of Music

The program put on at the high school last Friday by the Gardner Music Company, demonstrated to Torrance people the latest achievement in the musical world—the Brunswick Panatropé—the only purely electrical reproducing machine. In announcing the Panatropé here Mr. Gardner said: "This electrical achievement is the result of the joint effort of the Radio Corporation of America, the General Electric Company, the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, and Brunswick. The instrument reproduces the sweetest tones perfectly. All interference is eliminated by electricity, with the result that the notes issuing from the instrument are as perfect as musical notes can be."

Valentino Film At the Lomita In His Latest

"Cobra" Booked to Show Thursday, Friday and Saturday

Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Lomita Theatre Rudolph Valentino will be shown in his latest released picture, "Cobra." This is not a snare picture, but means the lure of a fascinating, unscrupulous woman—the charm which the cobra exercises over its victims. Supporting Valentino is Nita Naldi, Eileen Percy and Gertrude Olmstead. Also the eighth of the series of "Adventures of Mazie," and Newsreel.

Sunday and Monday, Evelyn Brent in "Three Wise Crooks," a knockout crook story supported by a wonderfully picked cast; also a Universal comedy, and Newsreel. And Monday our regular "Gift Night," with lots of valuable gifts. Tuesday and Wednesday, Irene

Buster Keaton, Chas. Ray, Other Stars to Show

Torrance Theatre Books Feature Films for Coming Week

How far should a man go to further his career? Should he sacrifice his own desires and ambitions for his family? Is he justified in denying parentage as a stepping stone to future success? These questions and more are answered in the dramatic photoplay, "His People," a Universal Jewel to be shown at the Torrance Theatre Thursday and Friday.

Charles Ray is said to have given the finest performance of his career in Robert Z. Leonard's production, "Bright Lights," which will be seen Saturday at the Torrance Theatre. Ray, as Tom Corbin, is co-starred with Pauline Starke in this Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture.

Buster Keaton and his company of 60 spent a month on location in Arizona during the filming of "Go West," the frozen-faced comedian's success to be shown at the Torrance Theatre Sunday and Monday. Thousands of steers and scores of cowboys were recruited for the production, which was made under the Joseph M. Schenck banner for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer release.

Edward Sedgwick, for many years the foremost director of Westerns, who had charge of the Hoot Gibson pictures for Universal, has just produced one of the most notable achievements in his career, when he completed "Lorraine of the Lions," starring Norman Kerry. It is the story of a feminine Tarzan cast on a South Sea island. It is a Universal Jewel and will be shown next Tuesday and Wednesday at the Torrance Theatre. Isadore Bernstein wrote the story expressly for the screen.

Rich, supported by Clive Brooks, Louise Fazenda, and others, in "Compromise." See this latest picture of Irene Rich, which is deemed extra good, together with a Universal comedy and Newsreel. Wednesday is "Popular Night" at Lomita Theatre, prices of admission being 15c for adults and 10c for children.

Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Hess and daughters, of Poppy street, enjoyed "Rip Van Winkle" at a Long Beach theatre Sunday afternoon, and later visited friends in Los Angeles.
